CALL FOR PAPERS

EDUCATION MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATION OF SOUTH AFRICA 19TH ANNUAL INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

7th – 9th September 2018 | East London International Convention Centre
Eastern Cape | South Africa

CONFERENCE THEME

The annual EMASA Conference is an excellent opportunity and platform to establish and strengthen valuable networks, partnerships and linkages for both academics and practitioners to bridge the ubiquitous gap between theory and practice. One of the aims of the EMASA Conference is to enable education leaders and managers in South Africa to share their common passion, expertise and experiences. The EMASA Conference provides a high-level forum for focussed discussions and intense debates on education leadership and management issues that beleaguer progress and development in this crucial area of specialisation. The conference makes it possible for specialists in the field of Education Leadership and Management to contribute jointly to the body of knowledge that speaks to the challenging realities faced by our diverse education contexts in South Africa.

We know a lot about education leadership and management today. However, there are still many gaps in our knowledge about effective education leadership and management in the South African education context. Knowledge is at the heart for individual and collective actions of education leaders and managers to work closely with many stakeholders in order to deal effectively with burning issues and violations of human rights in education that harm the foundations of freedom, democracy and social justice. It could be argued that this is the time for education leaders and managers to take intellectual risks and to think differently about their educational involvement with a sense of deep concern for social justice in the South African education context and landscape. With the preceding as background, the EMASA Annual International Conference theme for 2018 is:

The legacy of our education leaders and managers: a time for reflection and doing things differently?

The EMASA Executive eagerly awaits related abstracts/proposals for paper presentations, pair or team presentations, as well as proposals for poster presentations that address ONE of the following conference sub-themes:

SUB THEMES

1. Ground-breaking achievements to meet the demands and challenges of the changing landscape in education.
2. Innovative responses to optimize access to basic and/or higher education
3. Strengthening/Sharing leadership in office-based, school-based and higher education
4. The intricacies of professional development and preparation of education leaders
5. Leadership empowerment and preparation concerns in education
6. The significance of issues such as the plea for the decolonisation of the curriculum, 'state capture' and other critical issues for education leaders and managers
7. Diversity and social justice opportunities in times of change
8. Contextual determinants beyond the school fence to account for by school leadership
